WOMAN GIVES CLEW TO CHICAGO MYSTERY

Says She Saw Three Men Near Spot Where Murdered Girl's Body Was Found.

TWO OF THEM ARE IN CUSTODY.

Oscar Thompson, Again Sharply Questioned by Police, Much Disturbed at the New Turn-Bartholin Still Missing.

Chicago, Aug. 12.-The police obtained their first clew of value in the Bartholin case to-night and developments that will go far toward solving the mystery are expected within twenty-four hours.

Inspector Hunt late to-night found a woman who declared that at daybreak on the morning following the night in which Minple Mitchell disappeared in company with partment provides for giving military in-struction at many schools and colleges on, driver for a laundry company, and throughout the United States, the army to throughout the United States, the army to furnish officers to give instruction and free John Claffy, the barn boss of the same concern, and a man wearing a Panama hat and a dark sack coat at the corner of Seventy-fourth and State streets, where Minnie Mitchell's body was found.

They were going back and forth in the weeds and acting in a suspicious manner.

While the ponce have always comenied that Thompson, who was a coarder in the house of Mrs. Bartholin, had knowledge of her death, they had had suspended that he was in any way connected with the murder of Minnie Mitchell.

Woman Positive in Her Statement. Woman Positive in Her Statement.

The woman, nowever, was positive in her statement that she saw Thompson and Claffy in company with the third man at the time and place mentioned. She knew both of them and declared that there was no chance of her being mistaken.

The description of the third man, so far as it describes anybody, is a description of Burthelin the night he was last seen with the Mitchell girl.

Officers were at once sent in scarch of Claffy and he was taken into custody without difficulty. The jobce will talk to him later.

Thompson was then called into the office out difficulty. The police will talk to him later.

Thompson was then called into the office of Inspector and informed that he had been seen with Claffy and Bartholin on the morning following the night of the killing of the Mitchell girl.

The information had a marked effect upon Thompson and he seemed for a minute to be on the point of collapse. He rallied, however, declared he was not there and knew nothing of the case in any way. The police pressed him hard, but he would not aiter his statement although he was padmy much worried.

After the interview inspector Hunt declared that he was more than ever impressed with the opinion that Thompson had knowledge of the murder of Mrs. Bartholin and thought that before long he would weaken and tell all he knows.

"I cannot give the name of the woman who gave me the information about the three men," said the inspector, "but I am positive that she told me the truth. She knows Thompson and Chaffy personally, and thore is not one chance in a thousand of her being mistaken.

"We had not suspected Claffy of being in the case at all and her statement that she positively recognized him makes it impossible that she should have been mistaken regarding Thompson, whom she knows as well as she knews Claffy.

"The description of the third man, fits Bartholin so far as it goes and I feel very confident that we are on the right track and will have the strings all in our hands before very long."

The police during the day had received the usual number of clews concerning the whereabouts of Bartholin, but none of them amounted to anything. They admitted tonight they did not know what had become of him.

Woman Confronts Thompson.

Woman Confronts Thompson. The woman to-night was confronted with Thompson, and while he was forced to admit that he knew her and she knew him, he denied her story.

The woman declared that a light-colored cap, which Thompson had attempted to throw away, was one that he wore at the time that she saw him under the electric light. When asked why he threw that cap away to wear the one he had on when he was arrested, he hesitated and then said: "Give me until to-morrow. I will talk with you then."

This plea was taken as an indication that Thompson's wall of stolidity was broken down at last by the strong evidence he had been confronted with and the police think he will tell all he knows to-morrow. They expect he will confess to a share in the murders.

Claffy, after Thompson, was confirmed

Claffy, after Thompson, was confirmed with the woman in black. At first he did not know her, but in imated that he did when she called him by name. Claffy is a man about 45 years of age. The woman repeated the story in exactly the same way she told it at first. He denicd being with Thompson and Eartholin at the time and was immediately locked up again.

OPPONENT FOR JOY

Thomas E. Barrett Is Thinking of Becoming a Candidate for Congress.

CONVENTION TO MEET TO-DAY.

Light Vote in All of the Wards at the Republican Primaries Yesterday, Owing to Abscence of Contests.

Thomas E. Barrett may announce himself as a candidate for the Democratic congressional nomination in the Eleventh District to oppose Charles F. Joy. His friends have been urging the step for some time, and yesterday he said that he might consent to go after the honor.

"Any good Democrat can beat Joy," said Mr. Barrett, "There is a safe Democratic majority in the district, and only overconfidence will result in Joy's re-election. A number of friends have asked me to run in opposition to him some of whom have said that they would be willing and anxious to contribute to the expenses of the campaign. I have not given my answer, for there is no hurry about the matter. I think that I have about as many friends in the district as any other mar living there, having spent my whole life there. I shall probably decide in the next fortnight or so whether to run." The Republican Nominating Convention of the Eleventh Congressional District will take place at 10 o'clock this morning in the Social Turner Hall, Thirteenth and Monroe streets.
